

D167 BARCELONA, 16 JUNE 1989

SOUND Good (acoustic songs better than electric - for improved audio, see D167.su)

IMAGE Also good - reasonably sharp, pleasingly coloured, hand-held, close, steady with minor wobble and occasional head problems (during H61 especially).

RUNNING TIME 47 minutes

PERFORMANCE Passionate, committed.

HIGHLIGHTS (1) JLaw (2) a wonderful (and beautifully filmed) Hard Rain.

COMMENT This DVD is lots of fun. The cameraman, up close, is pressed in tight amid an exuberant down-front crowd, thus plenty of atmosphere, joyous singing and clapping along - during JLaw in particular, which D delivers in a fetching coat-of-many-colours like Joseph to his people.

STARS I deleted a previous five-star review of this disc, thinking (after having seen other better ones) that perhaps my estimation of it had been over-generous. However, imperfections notwithstanding, and though it wouldn't be the very last one out of the balloon, the full five its vitality and presence still deserves. A little gem.
